THIS WEEK AT THE MOSES MASON HOUSE

The fifth annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show was held on Saturday, May 26, at the Dr. Moses Mason House. Over 100 students from throughout S.A.D. 44 entered the art show. Prizes in the Junior Division (Grades 1-6) went to Victor Hart, Grade 4, Crescent Park, first; Bill-Jo Robinson, Grade 3, Crescent Park, second; Scott Emery, Grade 5, Andover Elementary School, Senior Division (Grades 7-12) James Gorman, Grade 11, Telstar Regional High School, first and second; Brent Bachelder, Grade 11, Telstar Regional High School, third. Helen Morton won the Faye Taylor Memorial Award donated by the Bethel Savings Bank in the adult competition. Jean Anton received the Honorable Mention. Judges included Donald G. Bennett, Elizabeth Mason Carter and Randall Bennett. Also part of the show this year were three paintings by the late Faye Taylor loaned by her son, Kent. These include "Maine Mountain," 1969, "The Mirror," (1970), "September Harvest," (1965). Mrs. Taylor was a well-known local artist who was also a founder of the Bethel Historical Society.

On Sunday, May 27, the 195th anniversary of Dr. Moses Mason's birth was observed with festivities taking place throughout his home. The Doctor and his wife were again ably portrayed by Ernest and Betty Perkins who greeted each visitor at the front door and made them welcome much as the Masons might have done in the 19th century.

Memorial Day Thanks

A special kudo is in order to our Highway Department workers for their efforts to prepare the monument areas and public cemeteries for the observance of Memorial Day, Monday, May 28. Forenoon ceremonies commemorating our friends and neighbors who lay down their lives in wartime took place in front of the monument surrounded by a repaired and newly painted fence and neatly trimmed grass. Cemeteries had been given timely attention this year, also. The commitment and attention to detail of our highway crew members in cleaning and preparing our Town for observance of Memorial Day is especially praiseworthy.

The S.A.D. 44 Adult & Community Education program held 1984 Graduation Ceremonies at the Telstar Regional High School Cafeteria on Tuesday evening, May 29, with 26 adults receiving their diplomas or GED certificate.

Director Cathy Newell welcomed the graduates and their families and guests, prior to the invocation which was given by Rev. Marriotte Churchill of the First Congregational Church in Andover.

William Clough III, headmaster of Gould Academy, gave the Commencement Address. Mr. Clough, who is completing his first year at Gould, congratulated the graduates and their families on their ability to take on the task of finishing their high school education. He commented that many people, himself included, have good intentions regarding the completion of a project, be it reading a book, a foreign language, or splitting a log, but the difficult part comes in seeing the task through to completion.

BISHOP-ELECT TO SPEAK AT GOULD BACCALAUREATE

The Reverend Edward C. Chalfant, Rector of St. Mark's Church, Columbus, Ohio, will be the Baccalaureate speaker at Gould Academy's 148th Commencement exercises on June 2. Rev. Chalfant was recently elected the Bishop Coadjutor for the Episcopal Diocese of Maine and this may be his first "official" act in his new position. He will serve the Diocese of Maine as Coadjutor with Bishop Frederick B. Wolf until Bishop Wolf's retirement planned for 1987. The consecration of Bishop-elect Chalfant will take place this fall in Portland, tentatively scheduled for Sept. 21, at the Cathedral Church of St. Luke.

Rev. Chalfant is no stranger to Maine having visited the state often. Another connection to Maine and Gould is his son Cole who is a member of the 1984 graduating class. The Bishop-elect will be the principal speaker at the 9 a.m. Baccalaureate service held in the West Parish Congregational Church, located next to the Gould campus. He will also participate in the 10:30 a.m. Commencement exercises scheduled to be held on the Gould campus later that morning. It is expected that there will be over 500 students, both seniors and undergraduates, and their parents on hand to witness the formalities.

Commencement week end will begin with a Senior-Parent-Faculty banquet on Friday night followed by "senior-night" in Gould's William Bingham Auditorium. Baccalaureate and Commencement will then follow the next morning with Ned Gillette, noted outdoorsman, writer and expedition leader as the principal graduation speaker. After a picnic luncheon for all present, Gould will close its doors on its 148th year of providing secondary education in Western Maine.

TRI-TOWN PUBLIC SUPPER SATURDAY NIGHT, JUNE 2

FROM THE BETHEL AREA HEALTH CENTER

Consumers spend millions of dollars each year on wrinkle creams, skin bleaches to fade "age spots", oils and other cosmetics in order to keep their skin looking young. At the same time, they spend not only money but countless hours trying to tan their skin, in the belief that a tan will make them look healthy and more attractive. Unfortunately, most people do not realize that long periods of sun exposure are the major reason that their skin looks wrinkled before old age. Signs of aging rarely appear in protected skin until sometime after age 50 and even then aging progresses very slowly.

Sun radiation causes long term damage to the skin even if the skin does not appear to burn. A suntan may prevent further sunburn but it does not protect the skin from sun damage, which may not be visible for many years. Thus dark spots or age spots may appear on sun-exposed skin with age.

Dermatologists agree that sunlamps and tanning salons may produce skin damage and warn that they be used with caution.

An estimated 300,000 cases of skin cancer each year result from over exposure to the sun over a period of years. Skin cancer is easily cured in most cases when detected early.

The best way to guard against overexposure to sun's rays is to take protective measures such as sunbathing in early morning or late afternoon.

The face and neck can be somewhat protected by hats but the best protection is to apply a sunscreen to all skin that is not covered by clothing.

Sunscreens are oils, creams, gels or lotions that absorb or scatter the sun's rays. The Sun Protection Factor (SPF) that appears on the label of a sun screen product, is an important rating in sun protection. The higher the number the more protection the product provides. A sun protection factor of 8-15 is recommended for maximum protection. To be really effective the sunscreens should be applied 1/2 hour before sun exposure and they must be re-applied after swimming or perspiring.

century. A festive air was provided by Alva Morrison who played his fiddle and accordion throughout the afternoon. In the meeting room Arlene Brown, Edna York and Mary Valentine took turns playing old time piano favorites. In the work room Audrey Brooke demonstrated stenciling, upstairs Dick Hastings worked on her needlepoint, in the dining room Helen Morton sketched, in the meeting room Agnes Haines produced baskets, and in the parlor Ruth Wight quilted. Floribel Haines and Barbara Douglass served old fashioned strawberry punch from the winter kitchen and birthday cake made by Diane Howe was served in the dining room by Betty Perkins, portraying Mrs. Mason. Dr. Mason was one of Bethel's most distinguished citizens, serving in many capacities of public trust including two terms as United States Congressman from Maine, 1934 marks the 10th anniversary of the opening of his house as a museum.

New member this week of the Bethel Historical Society is Ellen Coffin of Norway.

All those wishing to go on the Portland trip sponsored by the Society and S.A.D. 44 Adult and Community Education are urged to call the Society at 824-2908 or Adult Education at 824-2780.

The monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society will be held on June 7 in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House beginning at 7:30 p. m. Special feature of the evening will be the opening of a new exhibit for the 1984 season on Martha Fildfield Wilkins (1879-1953) photographer, collector and local historian. Mrs. Fildfield, although born in Methuen, Mass., possessed deep roots in the Bethel area. She was a descendant of Benjamin Russell Sr., Bethel's first town clerk who came to Sudbury, Canada in 1777. She also had many ties with Sunday River and Riley Plantation. Her maternal great-great grandfather, Eliphaz Chapman suggested the name "Bethel" from the book of Genesis when the town was incorporated in 1796.

Mrs. Wilkins' unpublished manuscript was edited by Randall H. Bennett in 1977 and published as "Sunday River Sketches". Last fall, Mr. Bennett acquired several more of her notebooks, photographs and other memorabilia, much of which will be on display. Mr. Bennett has copied many of

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

Some work has been done on Back Street this week — ditches were dug and cleaned out and some of the bad "yes marns" removed. Those of us who frequent the road are hoping that a good grading job be done soon as the road is rough and even a crawl is hard on a vehicle.

A memorial service for Helen Abbott, a native of Upton was held in the church Saturday. Present were Oscar Judkins, born in Upton in 1893 and his wife of North Anson, Isabelle Hutchinson, who came to Upton as a bride in 1920, Sydney Abbott of East Sumner, Alan Fuller of Dixfield, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Judkins of West Peru, Phyllis Young of Rumford, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Barnett, Larry Enman of Errol, N. H., Pastor and Mrs. Rodney Hanscom of Bethel, Shirley Staples of Lisbon Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Wight, Jason and Jenny, of Old Town, Gretchen Wight of Portland, Mary Valentine of Bethel, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wight of Newry, Mr. and Mrs. James Yarnell and Arline Bernier of Upton. Mary Valentine was organist and Pastor Hanscom included in his service readings of two poems written by Malvena Abbott, cousin by marriage, and long time resident of Upton. These poems were entitled "Echoes from the Woods" and "Umbagog Lake". The pastor invited guests to recall memories associated with Helen and Isabelle responded by sharing some of her fond memories during her early years as an Up-the photographs for a slide presentation entitled "Bethel, Keelchum and Vicinity: The Photographs of Martha Fildfield Wilkins" which will be featured at this meeting. Bennett, who received his degree from the University of Maine at Farmington, has written and lectured widely on Maine history and the White Mountains. The meeting is open to anyone interested and refreshment will follow the program.

MUSIC MAKERS AT MOSES BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Edna York, Mary Valentine and Arlene Brown provided piano music during the two hour celebration of Moses Mason's 195th birthday last Sunday afternoon at the Moses Mason House. Also entertaining the many guests was Alva Morrison, right, who played the violin and accordion.

I did not know Cecil before this time but grew to know him well and developed respect for his abilities. Cecil's contributions to the Society were noteworthy from the beginning in everything from assembling rope stands for the museum to re-gluing furniture. Later he constructed the panels for exhibits and through the years managed to come up with many items necessary to further the progress of the Bethel Historical Society and the Dr. Moses Mason Museum. I will always be grateful for his unselfish volunteer assistance.

Cecil kept busy until the end of his days. He was dedicated to hard work and often worked harder than he should have considering his health and age. Moreover, he always retained a lively interest in this community. His wife's death last summer, however, was a terrible blow from which he never really recovered. It is then in this light, perhaps, best that after a long life he did not long survive her. Nonetheless, I will miss seeing Cecil, a familiar figure in the post office or working about town.

He leaves behind a legacy of service that will, I trust, be remembered by many of us who were fortunate enough to have known him.

Very sincerely,
Stan Howe

WEST BETHEL UNION CHURCH

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed at the Union Church in West Bethel next Sunday, June 3.

Church service will begin at 9:15 a. m. as usual. The annual meeting of the Chapel Aid will be held on Wednesday, June 13, at the church. Rev. Rust will be on his annual retreat to Fisherman's Island from June 4 to 8.

ton resident and as a neighbor of Helen's.

A graveside ceremony followed the church service, and this in turn was followed by a lunch and fellowship hour at the Ladies' Aid building.

A special town meeting is scheduled for Thursday evening of this week. The warrant includes school budget plus request for funds towards purchase of replacement snow removal equipment.

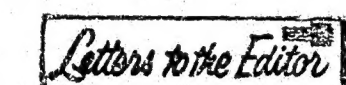

Sylvia Wight and Arline Bernier cleaned the church and Ladies' Aid Building. We had a bit of juggling of our personal tasks to get together, so didn't have opportunity to alert others. There is still plenty of inside and outside ground work around these buildings for the civic minded. Bill Wight replaced a porch support which fell during last week's mini tornado or whirl wind.

What with weather conditions, leaf gathering and other distractions, it took us 10 days from the time we started planting a new strawberry bed until we got the last row set. Several of the first set plants were blossomed!

Pastor Larry Shaw offered the congregation to share personal experience in line with Memorial Day and there was some response to this.

Several dogs received rabies shots during the clinic conducted by Dr. Hudson of Bethel and held at the school house, Thursday.

To the Editor:

This month marks my 10th year of association with the Dr. Moses Mason House. When I look back on those first weeks attempting to transform a nearly empty building into a functioning museum and historical headquarters, I think of the many people who helped make it possible in that frantic period before the dedication of the building on July 10, 1974. One of those people who played a key role was Cecil Conrad who died on Sunday.

I did not know Cecil before this time but grew to know him well and developed respect for his abilities. Cecil's contributions to the Society were noteworthy from the beginning in everything from assembling rope stands for the museum to re-gluing furniture. Later he constructed the panels for exhibits and through the years managed to come up with many items necessary to further the progress of the Bethel Historical Society and the Dr. Moses Mason Museum. I will always be grateful for his unselfish volunteer assistance.

Cecil kept busy until the end of his days. He was dedicated to hard work and often worked harder than he should have considering his health and age. Moreover, he always retained a lively interest in this community. His wife's death last summer, however, was a terrible blow from which he never really recovered. It is then in this light, perhaps, best that after a long life he did not long survive her. Nonetheless, I will miss seeing Cecil, a familiar figure in the post office or working about town.

He leaves behind a legacy of service that will, I trust, be remembered by many of us who were fortunate enough to have known him.

Very sincerely,
Stan Howe

To the Editor:

I was unable to attend the School District Budget Meeting May 31. Many times I have heard someone say "No need to go to the meeting everything is all cut and dried anyway". This certainly seems to have been the case at the Budget meeting. A motion duly made and seconded to cut $100,000 from the amount asked in the budget was not voted on. I feel that this was improper, and probably illegal, since Parliamentary law requires that when a motion has been duly made and seconded it must be voted on before any other business may be taken up at the meeting. This was excused by saying that a motion was made to amend the motion and restore the cut. That is no different than making a motion to approve the budget as proposed.

The motion certainly should have been put to vote, and if rejected, as I feel it probably would have been, a new motion could have then been made. Even if the motion to cut had passed, a motion to reconsider could have been made and voted on. The refusal to put the motion to cut to vote was, in my opinion, an outright disregard of the voters' rights. Our school officials, evidently feel that they can not only fail to give any accounting of what was done with our tax dollars in the annual District Report, but that they can ask for any amount they want and then refuse to let the voters vote on a cut. I feel that this is an outright disregard of the voters' and taxpayers' rights.

LOCKE MILLS SUNDAY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT ENDS THIRTY YEARS OF SERVICE

For 30 years of service as Superintendent of the Locke Mills Union Church Sunday School, Richard Melville was honored at the church on Sunday, May 20.

After the presentation of awards and certificates to students and teachers during morning worship, Mr. Melville received a framed certificate of recognition and many words of thanks for his dedication to Christian Education in the church from 1954 to 1984.

Following worship, the Rev. Michael Caldwell led the children and parents in three cheers and applause and presented the Interpreter's One Volume Commentary of the Bible; Sunday school teacher Barbara Dunham and Secretary-Treasurer Denise Swan, presented a fishing pole on behalf of the teachers. A beautiful cake for the occasion was inscribed by Ruth Cox and presented by teacher Cindy Cox.

Mr. Melville will continue in the Sunday School program of the church as Superintendent Emeritus and will teach one of the Adult Bible classes next fall. He is a regional representative for Atlantic Tricity Corporation, and lives with his wife Beverly, organist and choir director for the church, in Locke Mills.

Accepting the position of Superintendent was Bruce Swan of Hanover, also in ceremonies on Sunday. Other teachers completing the year were Margaret Ring, Sandra Swan, Elinor Andrews and Cheryl Young.

"PROJECTION GRADUATION" PLANS COMPLETED AT MAY MEETING OF C.A.D.E.T.

The town hall was the site of C.A.D.E.T.'s most recent meeting and there was just enough room to accommodate its members. Two new students were attending for the first time: Scott Fraser and Mike McGuire.

The group reviewed and discussed the Waterville workshop for this week. Seven members are attending the two day training sessions.

New officers for the group were chosen: Lynn Chapman, treasurer; Tammy Poland, secretary; coordinators, Ginny Walker and Edleen Winslow; consultants at the high school, Sue Taylor, Sally Hammon, Rodney Abbott.

Plans for Project Graduation week were finalized: The barbecue for June 6, 12:30-ice cream smorgasbord for June 7, 10:30, and Hillside for June 8-9.

Only 12 graduating seniors not attending—great news. Over 100 at Hillside. The community support is overwhelming and deeply appreciated by co-ordinators Edleen Winslow and Sally Hammon.

Marjorie Bartlett has canvassed Andover and support has been positive. Students were placed in charge of finding games and Tammy Poland volunteered for the decorating job. Two prizes will be given.

T.T.A.E.R.S. News

(Tri-Town Ambulance & Emergency Rescue Service)

Tri-Town is having a public supper on Saturday night, June 2, at 5:30 at the West Paris Grange Hall. Please come and support the service.

Tri-Town rescued 11 injured children and one bus driver at its monthly training meeting held Wednesday evening. The downpour ended just before the training meeting started. Joyce Howe provided the bus and the children for the practice session. Triage Tags were used to determine who was injured the most and who could wait to be treated later. It was a good learning experience for everyone.

The auxiliary will be meeting on Monday night, June 4 at the West Paris branch of the Bethel Savings Bank at 7 p.m. The summer events of fund raising projects will be discussed.

Safety Tip of the Week

Tri-Town supports Project Graduation. The aim is to have seniors enjoy their important day without indulging in alcohol or drugs. Parents can be held liable when serving minors in private parties, should the child become injured. Drinking slows down the reaction time of a person behind the wheel. Let's keep our seniors alive to enjoy the rest of their lives by not letting them drink to celebrate and then drive home. Graduation in O.H.S. is Thursday night, June 7, and Graduation for Telstar is Friday night, June 8.

All of us at Tri-Town wish these seniors good luck as they head out the High School doors into the world.

TO OPEN WITH SALE

The Woodstock Museum will begin its summer season this Saturday from 1-4. The community can justly be proud of its new extensive collection of antiques, collectibles, dishes, photographs, uniforms and books. In the space of a mere five years the Society has paid for a museum building and filled it with fine artifacts. The whole community should be commended for its support of the Society.

And the Museum will open with a flea market sale of items that have been cleaned out of the building. Included will be old books, wheelbarrows, stoves, oil drums, lawnmowers, etc. Plan to come and see the new museum itself or buy something for a good cause.

Remember that the study of history is the examination of civilization and culture in general. As Edmund Burke once said, "He who will not look backward to his ancestors will not look forward to posterity."

Much thanks to all the Society members who have helped in cleaning out the Museum in the past few weeks. Here's to a successful summer season!

Leah Deegan spent her vacation last week with Marion Soule at Palermo. They saw Andre the Seal and went to Reid State Park.

Louisa Croteau flew in from Colorado on Tuesday. She was visiting in the neighborhood Saturday.

Marc, Leslie, Nathan and Jennie Moore along with Russ, Judy, Karen and Steve Andrews, Shelburne, N. H., and Harry and Bernice Moore, Goshen, Conn., spent the week end camping at Orr's Island.

Tree Growth. Despite an increase in approved expenditures, mostly due to a large increase in the S.A.D. 44 assessment, because of additional income from other sources and an increase of 13.9% in assessed valuation, the Assessors were able to hold the tax rate at $11.40 per thousand of assessed valuation, the same as the 1983 rate.

The increase in expenditures was 10.7%. Real Estate valuation, broken down, is Resident, land $548,950, buildings $2,612,550; total $3,161,500; non resident, land $2,907,950, buildings $4,578,000, total $7,485,950. The new Cascades Condominium Hotel at Sunday River Skiway accounted for a large percentage of the increase in real estate valuation. The Assessors expect to finish work on the taxes and commit them to the collector early next week and tax bills should be out by mid June. A 2% discount will be allowed on taxes paid within 30 days of date of bill and interest be charged at the rate of 1.25% per month, or part thereof, beginning Oct. 1, on all taxes not paid by Sept. 30.

The Planning Board met at Gregory Fraser's home, May 22. A representative from Outward Bound was present to show their final plans for building the project on their Sunday River property. The Board approved the plans. The next meeting is tentatively set for Tuesday, June 26. Place to be announced later.

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Collista Morgan, Corres. —

Last night was rich with stars, but there was no moon. Our cabin-home lay nestled under the shadow of old trees and everything was quiet except for a tone of bird-music and the chorus of frogs.

The next morning dawned with an overcast sky—a good fishing morning, so I put my boat into the water and set out to explore and to fish.

At this early morning hour there was a sense of adventure and aliveness.

By the tree, where my boat was hitched, I bent to place the key and found the delicate Starflower with its snow white blossom, starry and pointed. Keeping it company was the Rue anemone.

I pushed out into the water and then across to the opposite shore. There was movement on the pond, an uneasy whispering, as the wind formed waves.

A lonely duck seemed unafraid, as it made its way past the boat, and down the pond. I didn't know its kind.

The sound of lapping water, bird sounds and wind in the trees were all here. I looked out across the water to the green hills. The Redwings talked from bushes on shore. Here is the solitude one could find realization of all dreams. A fish hit my hook and I had my first pickering of the season.

I moved up pond fishing along the way and near to the shore. Suddenly with no warning the whisper of a breeze turned into a wide spreading wind, swaying the trees and changing everything. It was difficult to keep the boat in any position that I wanted. However it didn't last long. The sky began to weep gently, also.

I rowed down pond to the Sanborn River. Time was going much too fast but I moved into its mouth and on up the river. Here I found myself distracted by turtles that kept sliding into the water, as I neared their spot of leisure. Sometimes they were so well camouflaged that I didn't notice them until they were disappearing into the water. A painted turtle is a creature of shallow fresh water with a muddy bottom and much vegetation. They are fond of lazy streams or rivers, where there are protruding rocks or logs where they can bask in the sun from sunrise to late morning, and again from midday until early afternoon. When there are several on a log, which is not uncommon, if one scrambles then all others disappear at once. They

Sent in by Viva Whitman:

Another week has gone by and June will soon be here. The trees are looking beautiful, as they adorn themselves with the many different colors of green and even red, leaves. A time when pollen is in the air to make it harder for those with allergies to breathe, but who would want to stop the changes of Mother Nature? The fields covered with dandelions are a sight to behold and all the lovely flowers, from tulips to lilacs are a joy to see. I love to watch for the different flowers in folk's yards, as we ride through the country side.

Russell and I joined other Grangers, last Monday morning, to attend the funeral of our friend and Grange Brother, Raymond Tripp, Sr. He was a busy man, belonging to so many different organizations, and holding so many offices. We always feel bad to lose one of our friends.

After the services, Russell and I went to the cemeteries in East Bethel to decorate the graves of our loved ones for Memorial. On our way home, we stopped in Locke Mills to have lunch.

Tuesday found Russell setting out some of the seedlings he had started in the house. He sure did a lot of kneeling to set them out. I did some sewing that I wanted to get done.

Lawrence and Grace came home from their road travels to stay. Grace said she was happy to be home and have a chance to be home again.

Wynona, Michael and Courtney came Wednesday morning to bring back the suitcases they had borrowed to go to California. It was good to see them and know their trip was a good one. They brought me a beautiful plant pot that they got, and brought Russell a new cap to wear. They have many pictures, taken on their travels.

Russell had worked on his garden and the rototiller had broken a part. I wish all companies were as quick in getting parts to one, when needed, as the company from which his rototiller came. He called them Monday morning and the new parts arrived on Tuesday.

In the evening, we went up on Pike's Hill in Norway to decorate the grave of my deceased husband. After we had done that, we went to do the wash at the laundramat.

Friday was a busy day also. We had decorating to do at West Paris Cemetery, so did that after lunch, then got ready to go to Lewiston. Wynona was having Courtney's first birthday celebration and wanted all to come. Courtney acted as though she couldn't puzzle out why so many people were coming, but give her another year and she'll know better. She had many nice gifts and a Care Bear birthday cake, and ice cream.

Had to get busy on Saturday morning, baking for the Grange meeting to be held that night. As it was Gentlemen's Night, we expected quite a few people and not many to cook for the supper. Others couldn't come, so yours truly did a lot of cooking to make sure

Our town office is open for the 30, 1985. Certain other business will be transacted also. Warrant articles appear in their entirety on Page Two.

Budget amounts recommended by the Selectmen and Budget Committee in the warrant total $496,592.81, the result of cutting more than $88,000 from the initial proposed budget. Projects cut this year were Lower Main Street sidewalk replacement, Broad Street repaving, and Broad Street renewal. With the recommended cuts, the effect on the tax rate generated from the municipal budget will be slightly less than in 1983 ($21.50 tax per $1,000 valuation). However, the 1983 Bethel increase approved by voters last week at the S.A.D. 44 budget meeting will add a little more than two mills to the tax rate.

Article 26 of the warrant will ask voters whether to accept the donation and installation of a fountain at the center of the Common by the custodians of the Bethel Common Fountain Fund. Since funds could not be properly allocated in the budget for an item not yet accepted by the voters, the Fountain Fund custodians will donate any funds remaining after the fountain's purchase and installation for the first year's operating expenses.

no one would go away hungry, and they didn't either, or if they did, it was their own fault as there was plenty left to bring home. We had a nice meeting with about 36 present. Jeff Mills spoke, telling of things going on in the Legislature, there was a memorial service for Worthy Brother Raymond Tripp, Sr., a skit by Russell and myself, music by Richard Felt and Dot Camwell, a presentation of a 70 year seal to Sister Gwendolyn Holt, and more music by Harry Boyer as well as a few jokes and stories.

Sunday turned out to be a good day and we had an invitation to go to East Andover to have a cook out with Laura and Bernard Hutchins. They were having an early birthday party for Bernard and their granddaughter, Mandy Cobb. Laura's two children, Gregory Adams and Lorene Cobb were there with their families.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES AT LOCKE MILLS HELD UNDER CLOUDY SKIES

Under cloudy skies, the members of Jackson-Silver Post and Unit #68, Locke Mills, gathered at 9 a. m., May 28, to conduct their annual Memorial Day services.

Commander Earl Merrill, the marshal, was aided by Unit President Kathy Bartlett and Miss Poppy 1984, Koral Smith, carrying a bouquet of the little red poppies. Leading the parade were the American flags, and the Post and Unit colors, followed by the firing squad, all stepping out to the beat of the Telstar Marching Band, directed by Jerry Healey.

At the Veterans' Monument, State Senator Edgar Irwin of Rumford, gave a very touching speech. He had overseas duty in World War II, and belongs to the Rumford Post. Chaplain Lovejoy offered prayer and the band played the Star Spangled Banner. President Bartlett placed a wreath at the base of the monument and Chaplain Fannie Cummings was escorted to the bridge by Commander Merrill and Junior Member Kelly Bartlett to drop a floral spray on the water, in memory of those boys lost at sea. Poppy Chairman Vera Cross, gave out the Poppy Awards as a part of the program, to the girls who had helped her.

At the colorful cemetery, a worn-out flag was replaced with a new one, and there was a prayer, band music, volley, and taps were sounded. The Daughters of Union Veterans of Bryant Pond were well represented, carrying their beautiful American flags.

Back at the Hall, they regrouped and as many as could went to East Bethel, with the Band for brief services in the cemetery. Twelve men and eight Auxiliary members made an impressive showing of patriotism. (Alanson Lovejoy and Jackie Roberts marched in the pouring rain in Bethel, and Peter Anderson of the Bethel Post helped the Locke Mills boys at Bryant Pond and Andover.

In Bryant Pond for the 1 p. m. parade and program there was a light rain. The 10 Legionnaires and eight Auxiliary members led the parade with their colors, at the cemetery the prayer was given by Chaplain Alanson Cummings.

The same 18 members traveled to Andover for the 3 p. m. parade and service, that included the lowering of the flag to half-mast in memory of all Vietnam veterans, living and deceased.

Past State Commander John Howe of Ellsworth was able to be present, with his daughter, Olive Risco from New York.

World War I veteran Alanson Cummings and his wife and Everett Cross who is disabled, rode in the car so marked. The Cummings attended all five services.

Many young folks joined the parades and were treated after to ice cream, etc.
